

Lumbar Disc Dysfunctions

Certificate of Excellence in Assessment Peterborough, ON

Saturday February 25, 2012 9am-5pm

Registered Massage Therapists'
Association of Ontario

Instructor:

Aaron Rutter PT, BScPT, FCAMPT, CAFCI

- Registered Physiotherapist
- Fellow of the Canadian Academy of Manipulative Physiotherapists
- Certified with the Acupuncture Foundation of Canada Institute
- Adjunct I Professor at Queen's University

Course Description

This one day practical course will focus on the therapist's ability to assess and treat discogenic pain. The therapist will learn how to use repeated motions (Robin McKenzie approach) and other treatment techniques to centralize a patient's sciatica. This course is designed so that the therapist's clinical reasoning skills will be challenged, and the knowledge gained will be easy for the therapist to apply to clinical practice right away.
